Should I apply?

Having completed your Silver award you are probably ready for a new challenge, am I right?

If you are a team player, enthusiastic about the outdoors and keen to enhance your skills then The Silver Award is certainly for you.

Throughout this programme you will not only gain new friends and experiences but you will have the opportunity to develop your ability to: navigate, map read, deliver first aid, follow bearings and work cohesively within a team.

The Gold Award tests tenacity, fitness, communication and commitment. You will be required to dedicate twelve months of your time in each of the following areas: physical, skill and volunteering with a non-profit organisation. Your expedition assesses your ability to complete a four day expedition.

If all of this sounds like heaven on earth to you then, why not apply?
